

General rules and guidelines

NSF Award for Teachers for Promoting Science Amongst School Children

Applications are invited from teachers who have contributed in promoting science amongst school children. Teachers (government or private) of the schools of science societies registered with the NSF will only be eligible to apply.

Details

- This award is open for Teachers' In Charge of the Science Societies / teachers involving in Science Society activities who have made a significant contribution for the promotion of scientific thinking and improving of scientific knowledge, skills and attitudes among the school children and the public in the area.
- Previous winners "NSF best teacher Award" are not eligible to apply again. (This rule will not be applied for teachers those who have received commendations and appreciations).
- An interview will be conducted for the applicants to evaluate the contribution made during last four years (2019-2022).
- All supporting materials and evidence to establish the validity of activities undertaken by the applicant should be presented at the interview.
- Selected recipients will be duly informed by the NSF once the procedure to be followed in selection is completed.